A Mountain Lodge and Event Center

Meadow Creek is an historical stone lodge built in the late 1920s by an Italian prince for his lovely Denver bride, providing them both with accustomed elegance and quiet enjoyment.

Secluded on 34 acres, the Lodge overlooks an expansive meadow with lush flora, surrounded by tall pine trees and aspen stands. A beautiful spring-fed creek borders this exquisite property's main entrance and invites all to experience a true mountain oasis, now known as Meadow Creek.

Only minutes from the Denver metro area, this year-round lodge and event center, with wireless and A/V capabilities, shuns traditional banquet rooms and reception halls. With floor to ceiling French glass doors and windows, vaulted ceiling and skylights, the majestic beauty of Colorado proudly shines in. Guests delight in the splendor of their surroundings with every turn. Events can be held either indoors or in the midst of the many natural backdrops. The traditional gazebo, using the lodge's stone staircase for the bride's entrance, is an especially popular wedding site. Meadow Creek can comfortably accommodate group sizes from the intimate to up to 120 guests. For business or pleasure – Meadow Creek is the perfect choice!

The Inn features seven tastefully appointed rooms, including a Honeymoon cabin in the meadow; each with their own special amenities and mountain views. Overnight guests are afforded signature entrees for breakfast, and group luncheons or dinners are also available.

Meadow Creek is honored to provide you and your closest friends and family a most secluded, yet very convenient, mountain experience.
